BIRTH OF THE WORLD'S BEST MATTRESS

In the sixties, when the world stood witnessing massive cultural and technological upheavals, a man named Giuliano Magni started a sleeping revolution. In a small workshop tucked away in Prato, Italy, he dreamed to create the world's most perfect mattress. Prato being the world's capital of craftsmanship was the right starting place where Giuliano Magni's innovative ideas on sleep and well-being found their expression.

After years of observation and research, Giuliano Magni understood the importance of sleeping right. Inspired by nature, he brought to life a combination of techniques to create a mattress that would redefine the art and science of sleep. Today, 50 years later, over 50 million people in over 100 countries sleep on Magniflex mattresses.

HERE COMES A MASTERPIECE
FROM THE LAND OF ART

VIRTUOSO

Take luxury for granted. Virtuoso is a special line of mattresses that combines the finest quality materials with the most precious fabrics in nature and sophisticated looks to create the most resplendent sleeping experience. Meticulously embellished by a decorative motif of Florentine lilies and perfection echoing in every nook and corner, never was a mattress so grand and exquisite. What's inside a Virtuoso is even more luxurious: From fine horsehair to gossamer silk and merino wool, it comes with a choice of rare fibres, chosen to ensure the making of a truly exceptional mattress that's among the finest in the world.

THE WORLD'S FINEST MATERIALS

THE LUXURY OF NATURAL CASHMERE

Cashmere is a very soft and rare natural fiber that repels dirt and dust. Its unique property to trap air gives it a high degree of heat insulation ensuring constant warmth even in winter.

MERINO WOOL, THE NOBLE FIBER

Extracted from shearing the world's best sheep for their rare and refined wool, Merino wool is one of the finest animal fibers in the world with its extremely thin construction that's soft to the touch and allows the skin to breathe.

RARE CAMEL FIBER

Camel fiber is ideal for winter padding because its structure contains hygroscopic properties that absorb and dissipate the body's moisture and retain heat. The result is a microclimate that is always dry and pleasant.

AN ANCIENT SECRET: HORSEHAIR

The legendary horsehair, obtained from the animal's tail or mane, is a fiber that has been used for generations for upholstery of beds and mattresses. This fiber is extremely durable and elastic, never loses its natural flexibility and easily regains its original shape night after night for a comfortable and refreshing sleep. Horsehair also absorbs moisture to ensure a dry sleep environment.

SILK MON AMOUR

Silk is among the world's most loved fabrics and is undoubtedly the thinnest natural fiber. Being strong, it's able to resist deformation, remaining soft and pleasant to the touch. Silk is also the fabric of choice because, being an excellent insulator, it keeps you warm during winter and cool in summer.

THE FRESHNESS OF LINEN

Linen is the most suitable fiber for summer since it offers an exquisite sensation of freshness when in contact with the skin. Besides, the molecular structure of linen absorbs the moisture released by the body during sleep and lets it evaporate in thin air.

NATURAL COTTON

Cotton is a soft and durable natural fiber. This material stands out for its great breathability, which keeps it cool when in contact with the skin. Cotton also stays dry owing to its structure that helps absorb moisture rapidly.
